Why Mosaic?

Leaving a gift to Mosaic is a way of helping to support bereaved children and young people in years to come.

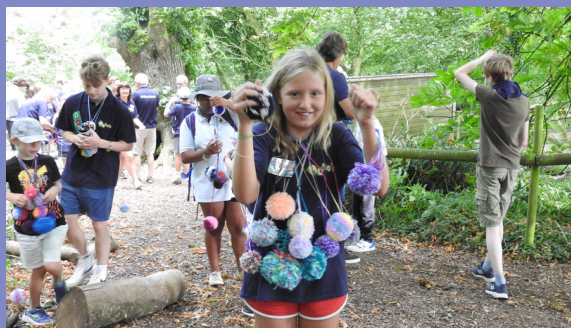

Experiencing the death of a parent, sibling, or loved one, can have a long term affect on a young person, and having support available for those who need it can help build resilience for future life events and relationships.

Making a Will is important, and it is only right that close family and friends come first, but it can also be a chance to give much needed support to charities close to your heart.

We understand that legacies can be a 'taboo' subject, one that none of us really want to think about, but even a small gift can make a real difference.

Please consider leaving a gift to Mosaic and help a child at such a difficult time in their lives.

Where there's a Will, there's a way...

Pom-poms are an important part of Mosaic Residential Weekends!

Your legacy is powerful. It's a way to keep fighting for what you believe in, even when you can no longer do it in person. For one of our late supporters, Valerie, it was a way to keep supporting children.

Valerie was a teacher, she loved to travel and enjoyed walking in Dorset with her teaching friends. She was a member of a church group who made pom-poms for our Mosaic Residential Weekends, and she left £10,000 to Mosaic as a gift in her Will.

If you'd like to find out how we can help you write a Will for free, or have any questions for us, please get in touch.

Thank you Valerie

Why should I make a Will?

Getting started making a Will is incredibly easy and vitally important. Without one, it will be left to the law to decide how your assets should be divided, and it might not be what you want.

We strongly recommend that you take professional advice when making your Will. Not only does it cost less than you might think, but it will give you peace of mind and ensure that your wishes are carried out.

It makes sense ...

There are sound financial reasons for leaving a gift to charity. A charitable legacy is entirely FREE of Inheritance Tax.

A gift of 10% could help reduce your inheritance tax liability.

Your financial advisor will be able to explain the benefits and how they might apply to your circumstances.

Charitable legacies are a vital source of income for charities, amounting to around £2 billion each year. By leaving a gift you are helping the work of the charity to live on.
